Janison Education Group Limited (ASX: JAN) ("Janison" or the "Company"), has been selected by the New Zealand Ministry of Education as the preferred provider to deliver a new national Assessment and Aromatawai Tool for schools, following a competitive tender process.

The world-class bilingual Assessment and Aromatawai Tool will be delivered via Janison's leading digital assessment platform. Janison will provide a long-term, accessible and scalable solution to support the Ministry in assessing students from Years 3 to 10. The Tool will become part of a wide range of assessment, aromatawai, reporting and monitoring activity underway for New Zealand's education sector, enabling twice-yearly assessment of reading, writing, maths, pānui, tuhituhi and pāngarau.

To initiate the project, Janison has entered into a three-month contract valued at $750,000 to support the design and discovery phase. This phase will produce a detailed delivery roadmap for 2025, with the Tool to become available for schools and kura to use from Term 1, January 2026.

While the initial contract value is not material to Janison's earnings, it marks a significant new strategic partnership with the New Zealand Ministry of Education. A key deliverable is the execution of a five-year Master Services Agreement, which is expected to represent a substantially larger commercial opportunity.

Sujata Stead, CEO of Janison, said: *"We are honoured to be chosen by the New Zealand Ministry of Education to support this pivotal national initiative. This appointment underscores Janison's position as a trusted partner for governments and educators seeking to deliver fair, data-driven student assessment at scale.
